Superintendent's Report-Tim Keteri
- He would like to post for a guidance counselor since Trish Sherman is part time. It'd be a good year to get a new person trained in with Mrs. Sherman.

- Testing is still up in the air. The state doesn't want it done because of the year but the federal level does.
- The elementary building needs updated heating controls like the high school building had done to regulate heat better.

Principal's Report-Kim Harris, South Range Elementary
- The MTSS team has been working on reading plans for students below reading level.
- Reading Month is in March. The school will be doing "One School, One Book", reading "The One and Only Ivan". Family Reading Night won't be able to be in person so the school will do something virtual.
- A recent in-service about strategies for students who have been through trauma was well received by the staff.
